Markets.

Liverson. Corros Masker, Feb. 28—It would be seen by our report of Friday last, that the market had taken a firm stand against any further decline, and that helders were keeping back their stocks, except they could obtain a turn of advantage in price. In this prepared state of things, reads to lay held of any burn that might present itself in favor of the market, we received, on Mouday morning the latest advices from America, giving confirmation to the previous estimates of short oreo, the receipts of sotton at the ports, in some degree, bearing out much a conclusion. An immediate turn in favor of sellers was the consequence of these importance advices, there being a good demand both from the trade and on speculation. This increased confidence and activity was well responded to in Manchester and we close the week with a d. advance on the good ordinary to middling fair qualities of American, and led on other kinds. During the last two days we have been put a little under check, and our proceedings moderated by the disturbed state of politics, and the difficulties apparently attending the formation of a government. Otherwise we select the week with an appearance of fruinces and confidence. Fair Uplands are placed at 7\(\text{M} \), Mobile at 7\(\text{M} \), and 400 Pernam have been taken on speculation and 400 Rengal for export. The sales of the week amount to 30 400 bales.

Liverroot, Coan Manner, Feb 28.—The grain trade has been exceedingly dull and languid during the part week, and the sale of foreign wheat and flour exceedingly slow. The latter has receded de per barrel since our last notice and the prices now quored are 20s, to 12s, for Baltimers, 20s, to 21s, 6d, for Western canal, and 30s, to 21s, for Canadian. Indian corn supports late rates, with a fair inquiry, at 31s, 6d, to 32s, for white; 30s, to 31s, for yellow, and 70s, 6d, to 30s, for mixed. The imports continue moderate.

country is prosperous, the revenue for the fisc year having increased upwards of two millions of pounds sterling. France is quiet, and will probably remain so until the Presidential election, at least. A proposition for a general amnesty of political offenders was rejected by the National Assembly, for the reason, principally, that it would be impolitic to hazard such an experiment in the present condition of that republic. Socialism is on the wane, and is evidently giving way to the good sense and intelligence of the people. A jury of Parisian artisans and small traders, selected miscellaneously from the population of the capital, recently convicted one of the writers of Le Vote Universel, a socialist organ, of writing an article tending to excite the citizens of the republic, one against the other. The article was addressed to the peasants, and probably advecated antirentism or some other equally anarchical ism of that school of modern philosophy. The result was, the writer was sentenced to six menths imprisonment, and to the payment of a fige of eight thousand francs. This is a very important sign of the times in France, and gives promise that those disorganizers and levellers are falling back into their natural position.

Great changes are, undoubtedly, in progress in Europe, culm as the surface at present is. Agencies are at work, which, in due time, will produce their fruits.

JOHN C. SPENCER-THE CODE AND THE CONSTR TUTIAN - We do not agree with our Albany correspondent in his denunciation of Mr. John C. Spencer, for giving it as his legal opinion, that the provisions of the new constitution do not coafficwith the proposition made by Mr. Burroughs to raise funds with which to enlarge the Erie canal. Mr. Spencer is an accomplished lawyer, and gave his opinion as such. There never was a constitution nor a bill yet framed, that cute lawyers could not discover a flaw in. Under the early constitution of this State, it was decided that the State should not issue hills of credit; but cunning lawyers found out that the State could charter banks to do so, and also that it could assue stock. It is only whipping the devil round the stump, and the system is a very old one. We particularly disagree with our correspondent in his disapproval of Mr. Spencer's position in relation to the new Code of Practice-a code which originated from anarchical and socialist ideas, and which has thrown the practice of the law in this State into the most glorious confusion. It has abolished, at one fell awoop, all the experience of the last two or three centuries, and established in its stead nothing positive, nothing certain, nothing reliable. It is nothing but anarchy legalized into a code.

IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER MOVEMENT AT WASHnoron .-- Mr. Donelson, formerly minister to Berlin, a protégé of General Jackson, has pur. chased the Union newspaper in Washington. Mr. Donelson is a very important politician, and is well acquainted with the politics of the Southwest. This movement may be considered a very important one in reference to the next presidency. is very probable that the new paper will give the whole of its influence in favor of General Houston, of Texas, who was also a protegé of Old Hickory.

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRACY

TAMMANY HALL.

Senators Cass and Felch being in the city, were in-vited to meet the democracy in Tammany Hall, last evening, which they consented to do. A meeting having been called, at half past seven o'clock, for the purpose of receiving them, it was organized by the ap pointment of a Chairman, and a number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries.

Senator Cars entered the hall leaning on the arm of Mr. Straban, and took his seat on the platform.

After repeated calls upon him, he made his appearance on the rostrum, and, in a joking manner, com-menced his remarks by saying, that if those assembled had heard as much speaking within a short time as he had they would not be desirous of hearing any more. SERIEVAL MINTERER. Scalewer Open Hosea, the Breach Parkers were more processed to the processed processed and the proces a speech; I came from a place where there were more words than actions—more addresses delivered than there were services rendered to the country; but i that what he said in regard to him might be properly interpreted. During the campaign of 45, when he was our standard beaver. I, said he, saw many of the same faces which I see now. I also see many men about this city, at the present time, who have probably professed the utmost friendship to that distinguished cantieman, whom I knew, in that hour of tris!, to be exceedingly rotten. (Laughter, J. Never, since the commencement of cur history, was there a time when the democracy was called upon to saily round a man, or fir the same purpose as they were so that eccasion. That is all very well, but where a man is proulisrly identified with principles, the deleat of the man is the defeat of the rrinciples. General Cass has very modestly told you that the people and not Congress saved the confederay, during the recent crisis, from dissolution. I say it was General Cass, and the democracy who sustained him 1888, who saved it. (Great applause.) The whole of the compromise measures which we are in the habit of alluding to so often, are all based in his Nicholson letter, and had the democracy wavered, or had he wavered, the Union would not now be in existence. I appeak this, bosonse I have heard several individuals talk about this man as having had all to do with it. There is a great deal of oyster box trickery in regard to the compromise measures which we are in the habit of alluding. What is more, will

VERY LATE FROM BRAZIL. - We have received from Rio Janeiro the Jornal do Commercio to the 24 of February. The political news is of no importance. On the 24 of February, General D. Fructo Rivera retired to the fortress of Santa Crus. The difficulties between the governments of Rio Janeiro and Buenos Ayres were still unsettled; but immediate war was not apprewere still unsettled; but immediate war was not apprehended and there were strong grounds for hoping that it may be avoided altogether. Notice had been given by the police department of Rio, that vessels entering that port would be required to present to the police agent boarding them, an exact list containing the names, nationalty and professions of any pavengers they might bring. The dry goods dealers had entered into an agreement not to buy goods at less credit than twelve months.

MONEY MARKET. PRIDAY, March 14-6 P. M. The stock market opened active this morning, and prices show an improvement on those current at the close yesterday. Operators in Long Island have become quite plenty within the past day or two, and holders feel confident of attracting outsiders at higher prices. Reading Railroad was a little better at the opening, but closed heavy. A sale was made of one bousand shares, seller twelve months, at 1% per cent below cash prices. Harlem was in demand at our quotations, and closed buoyant, notwithstanding the large sales. Every effort was made to sustain Erie Railroad without success. Morris Canal was not in much request; but prices improved considerably. A very large amount of railroad bonds, particularly Erie, changed hands. Portsmouth and Edgworth were the firmest stocks on the list, and it is our impression, judging from the movements going on, that an advance of considerable importance will be realized in each, Portsmouth went up to-day % per cent; but the rise drew out very little stock. Holders appear disposed to keep the stock out of the market, in view of th "ale at the Merchants' Exchange, of two thousand lots of the company's property on the 16th of April, payment for which will be taken in stock at its par value New Jersey Exploring and Mining Company advanced % per cent, with small sales. The ministerial crisis had not disturbed the previous state of things. For some time past it has been reported that the Bank of England intended to raise the rate of interest again, but up to the last date these statements had not been fulfilled. Out of doors, the rate of interest was three per cent, for good short mercantile bilts, but with a shyness of long paper. It was, however still the impression in financial circles that belove the lapse of thirty days the outside rate would be higher. The cetton market was active, and buoyaut. The advance was not anticipated on this side, and it is the impression here that it will be but temporary. CITY TRADE REPORT.

PRIDAY, March 14—6 P. M.

BREADSTUFFS.—Flour—Western and State remained without important change, but prices were scarcely so firm, the Eastern and local inquiry being less active. There was no export demand, the enhanced rates of freight, and the continued unfavorable advices from England, intimidating purchasers.
